DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 29-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the patents to Basard et al ('178) or Cantwell ('588) or Mulder et al ('126).

The patent to Basard et al discloses a radar device having a transmitter and receiver (claim 1) wherein the receiver has a range-controlled gain function. The range controlled gain is varied by applying a plurality of different corrections (SS1-SS64) to the gain at different ranges.

Similarly, the patent to Cantwell discloses a radar device wherein the receiver has a range-controlled gain function (col. 2, lines 45-65).

Finally, the patent to Mulder et al discloses a radar device wherein the receiver has a range-controlled gain function (col. 1, lines 16-59 and col. 7, lines 55-64).

The difference between independent claim 29 and the Basard et al, Mulder et al and Cantwell patents is there is no mention of changing the shape of the detection pattern. However, in as much as the three patents specify that the gain of the radar receivers are adjusted as function of range, and in the case of Mulder et al as a function of the fourth power of range, then it is argued that the gain that is varied in the radar receiver as a function of range inherently varies the shape of the detection zone of the radar.

Dependent claims 30-35 are further provided by the above noted patents.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed March 6, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that none of the patents make any mention of utilizing a specific receiver gain control as a function of a specific time (Range) to shape the detection pattern at will. First, there is no claim language of changing the detection "at will". Second, it is argued that the prior art patents do use a specific gain control as a function of a specific range (time). Although the prior art does not specify that the shape of the detection pattern is thus, changed, it is an inherent outcome of changing the gain control as a function of range to one of ordinary skill in the art.

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
